

CBCradio

June 9th, 2010 – ACT Foundation Executive Director, Sandra Clarke, speaks about the major announcement that will bring the ACT High School CPR Program to all public secondary schools across BC. This is made possible thanks to a $500,000 contribution from pharmaceutical leaders: AstraZeneca Canada, Pfizer Canada and sanofi-aventis. Student rescuer Jaron Chan, also speaks with The Early Edition's Erica Johnson about how his high school CPR training saved his own sister's life.

Click the play button to listen!

