

LIFESAVER

Ed McPherson, public access defibrillation co-ordinator for Lanark County Ambulance (LCA) Service (and a Town of Perth councillor) shows Perth and District Collegiate Institute students Kristina Ferguson and Brock McPherson how to operate a new automatic electric defibrillator (AED) that was donated to the school thanks to the Advanced Coronary Treatment Foundation (ACT) and MP Scott Reid. LCA partnered to provide CPR and AED training for teachers (including Kevin Bellamy, seen at the back), who then passed that training on to students. AEDs worth about $3,500 each were delivered to six schools in Lanark County, including PDCI and St. John Catholic High School.
